We're hearing a lot about booms and mushrooming population and shifting economies these days. It all seems to be the tune and trend of the times.

These things will precipitate fantastic changes in the national landscape of people, cities and culture in the 1960's.

But what does it mean to Cameron and you and me, the people of a small Central Texas City? Isn't all this happening to metropolitan cities?

"Are we in or out of the money?" you might ask. "What is my part to be in the Sensational Sixties?"

100-100-100

I sometimes look at this kaleidoscope of change as if I were not part of it. Perhaps you do too. But we are, that is, as much as we want to be.

My problem is common. I look upon this activity, often times wondering how booms can come to one place, miss another. I wonder if I should join the mob heading for big cities and "opportunities" and, incidentally, crowded, monoxide clouded downtowns and look-alike suburbs.

I find one basic element these areas exude, an element so important to favorable development of anything. That element is confidence.

100-100-100

If you look closely, you will find that steadily growing areas run scared; they don't think scared! And that is much of the difference between those who are and those who are not.

Where do we find confidence? You can look everywhere, search endlessly and you may not find it. You can't buy, trade or steal it or get it on the "easy pay plan."

So it must come from within... people. You and I have confidence if we believe in ourselves. If we don't trust our own abilities, we have to lean on others, only to fall when they fall.

A big car or other "status symbols" will not give us real confidence. It all begins with us... people.

And that's what makes things tick, as the experts say. People turn the wheels and people build and people plan and prosper.

We're people, you and I. So what are we worried about? Bring on the Sensational Sixties. I'm crazy enough to look forward to them.

Dedication Of First Christian Church Annex To Be Sunday

Dedication of the First Christian Church Annex, West Gillis St. will be held during Sunday worship services 10:50 a.m., according to the Rev. Walter Grimes, pastor of the First Christian Church.

First Sunday School classes for seven church groups will be held in the Annex prior to dedication services Sunday morning.

The Annex is a one-story house completely redone for church classroom use, Rev. Grimes said.

A main feature of the structure is an enlarged nursery and kindergarten. Church officials plan to have a fulltime nursery attendant each Sunday.

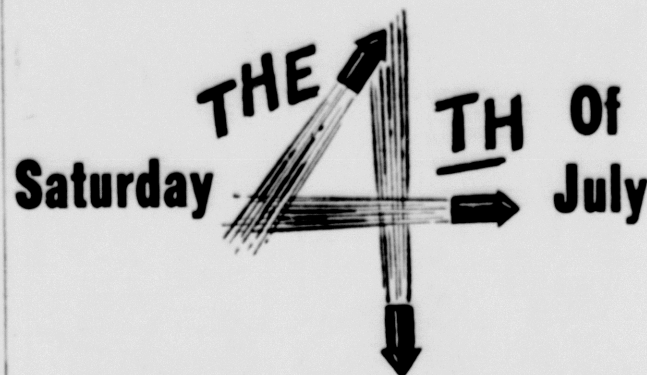

Prior to purchase of the property, formerly part of the Harper estate, the First Christian Church counted the sanctuary and the church parsonage as the only church owned property.

Sunday plans include an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Annex, Rev. Grimes said. Classes to use the Annex were formerly meeting in the basement of the main church building.

Officials Discuss Water Fluoride

Two State Department of Health experts explained the advantages of fluoridation of a city's water supply in session with city officials Monday.

Dr. John W. Stone, director of the division of dental health, and J. W. Wilson, Health Department engineer, told officials that fluoridation of Cameron's water supply would reduce child's tooth decay by as much as 70 per cent.

Meeting with the Austin officials were Councilmen Richard Moseley and Roy Griffith, Water Supt. Alvin Heft, City Sec. John Andres and Dr. George Bowman, Cameron dentist.

The session followed Dr. Bowman's appearance before the City Council last week to seek council thinking on the addition of fluoride to the city water's supply.

Fifty Cents A Day

"Fifty-two cents a day will pay for fluoride treatment of Cameron's water and pass on tooth decay prevention to every person in the city," Dr. Stone told the group.

He noted that Cameron's natural fluoride content in the water supply was one half of a part per million gallons. He recommended the addition of another 5 percent to raise Cameron's fluoride content to one part per million gallons.

"That's 3 cents per capital per year," he said.

State statistics show that 23 communities and 12 water systems are adding fluoride to their water. Nearby Temple is one of the communities. Many Texas cities' water has heavy natural fluoridation from well sources.

Tests have shown, he continued, that no ill effects have been found in any of these cities and that tooth decay among children from infancy to 10 years of age has decreased an average of 60 to 70 per cent.

Wilson said installation cost of a feeding mechanism at Cameron's water plant would be about $1500.

It would add the state-approved one part per million gallons of sodium silico-fluoride without any danger of putting surplus fluoride in the water.

Wide Support

Fluoridation has been approved by every major medical and dental society and has been recommended for implementation in the Cameron water supply by the county health unit, Milam County Medical Association, local dentists and the Cameron Chamber board of directors.

Cameron was a control unit in tests comparing the abundance of natural fluoride in nearby Bartlett to the low ratio of the substance found naturally in this city's water.

Dr. Stone said the measure is a "truly preventive procedure and a real health help to a community."

He said that criticism of fluoridation has been refuted by competent medical research and that major objection to the process has developed in some political campaigns.

Five Local Firms Plan Modernizing

Five Cameron firms have contracted for remodeling work and 10 others are studying plans for modernized fronts and interiors, according to The Cameron Chamber civic improvement committee.

Chairman O. B. Harden said that two service stations, The Herald and two professional offices have ordered work begun on fronts or associated interior remodeling.

E. A. Perrin, a Cameron gasoline consignee, is planning reworking two service stations on E. Fourth St. They are the Sanders Texaco and Fikes Texaco Stations.

Remodeling Due

Remodeling work will begin on the offices of Dr. Gus Evans, Jr., Cameron optometrist and Dr. George Bowman, Cameron dentist. And front improvements are underway at The Cameron Herald.

Harden said that about 10 other Cameron businesses are checking into modernization ideas being developed during the current modernization drive by the Cameron Chamber.

A number of different types of businesses are checking into modernization possibilities.

Members of the civic improvement committee met twice last week with architectural consultants from Dallas and San Antonio. A third team of designers and front developers has met with the Chamber group in past weeks.

$200,000 Fund

The move is gaining momentum following the announcement of a special fund of $200,000 set aside by both Cameron banks for specific use in storefront and allied interior modernization.

And about 10 Cameron contractors, building suppliers and service firms endorsed the program with an offer to do modernization work on stores at reduced rates.

Substantial improvements and major structural changes have already been completed at Hornung Hatchery, Ideal Hatchery, Lewis Chili Shoe Store, Wilson Jewelry, Mack's Oil Co. and other Cameron concerns prior to the current drive.

Parade To Start Show During 'Western Week'

Beards Boost Western Week Plans In City

Cameron Chamber Western Week (July 13-18) got off to a scraggly start this week as about 100 Cameron men sported their first week's growth of beard.

The "Brothers of the Brush" movement is a part of the pre-Western Week promotion to boost Cameron's fifth annual horse show sponsored by the Cameron Saddle Club.

Badges of green and yellow spotted the shirts of practically every male citizen this week, Chamber Manager Richard Moseley said. Green badges are the sign of beard growers while the yellow badges are shaving permits.

Soon to come, Moseley said, are the "wooden nickles" that will be circulated through Cameron businesses and a special jail for violators of Cameron's Western Week "code."

Then there will be Western Week string ties and special emphasis on cowboy garb throughout the Milam County seat, he said.

The Cameron Junior Chamber is building a jail to house violators of the code set out by Chamber promoters.

During the final days of Western Week, winners will be selected from beard growers, Moseley said. Cameron merchants will feature Western garb throughout early July in conjunction with the program.

Officials were estimating that attendance at the horse show July 17-18 should be greatly boosted by enthusiasm evidenced already, the Chamber manager said.

Council Okays Drain Extension, Grade On Tenth

City councilmen have voted to extend a 42-inch waterline from East 12th St. south to East Sixth St. and ordered a lowering of the grade on East 10th St. street site.

In a special session Friday, councilmen told property owners along E. 10th St. that a new grade level would be cut. The previous grade was not satisfactory to property owners along the streetway, officials said.

The move to extend the waterline to Sixth Street would give East Cameron a major water drainage service, according to Mayor Bassel Wilson.

The city will use $5,000 of budgeted funds for the project, starting from Sixth Street north and complete it with new funds in the next fiscal budget.

A portion of the line has already been installed to Eighth Street, but is not in use. It would drain overflow water from Cameron streets 25 square blocks.

Lowering of the 10th Street grade will clear the way for final paving of the three-block project. Construction will include curbing, guttering and asphalt pavement.

The line to be extended by the city was emplaced across 10th Street before the grade was set, officials noted.

Detailed Analysis ...

Slag Use Noted

Cameron Rotarians heard Dr. Robert Galloway, research engineer for the Texas Transportation Institute, explain uses and possibilities with Alcoa's slag aggregate Wednesday.

Introduced by Mayor Bassel Wilson, Galloway told the group of comparative costs of the material with conventional asphalt mixes and methods of paving streets with the material.

His audience included members of the city council, Alcoa officials and Cameron business leaders.

Galloway showed slides viewing test strips of the material emplaced in Bryan, site of much of the testing at Texas A&M.

He said cost of the material would run about $7 per ton compared to about $6 a ton, but that its expected durability would make use of the material economically practical.

Alcoa has offered free quantities of the material for test paving in Cameron. And city officials are considering emplacing the material under TTI controls, on either W. Main St. or North Crockett.

Galloway recommended the material be about one-inch thick if put down by hot-mix methods over a substantial base. He said a cold-mix process could be laid about one-quarter inch thick as a seal over streetways that are showing heavy wear.

He also noted qualities of firm stopping grip and bright, durable blackness.

The group indicated keen interest in the project during about a 20-minute question-answer session.

Guard Completes Ft. Hood Training

Guardsmen of Milam County's unit, Company C, 3rd Medium Tank Battalion, returned from two weeks at North Fort Hood early Sunday morning, ending their twelfth summer camp.

And the record books will show how successful they were in becoming familiar with their new tanks and tank weapons and their use under actual operation conditions.

They came home with deep tans from the North Fort Hood sun, not a few scratches and chigger bites—and a sense of satisfaction for a productive, if ruddy summer camp.

Earle Says Sweeper Working Perfectly, Covers Townways

Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle reported this week that the city's new street sweeper has completed about 80 hours of operation and is functioning smoothly.

The city put a used, $4,500 sweeper into operation two weeks ago and Earle has been covering every paved Cameron street in the initial drive to clean off excess dirt.

"We hauled away about 50 to 60 truckloads of dirt and debris on our first tour, and we have yet to establish a definite sweeping route," Earle told The Herald.

Rebuttlies Press Criticism

Solon Explains Tax Session

State Sen. Jarrard Secrest Tuesday night reiterated a defense against press and gubernatorial criticism of the Texas legislature's "200,000-a-day" special sessions.

In an after-dinner speech before a Lions Club ladies' night audience, Sen. Secrest challenged Gov. Price Daniel's means of computing "the 200,000 per day cost of a special legislative session."

The tri-county senator pointed out that legislators have had difficulty convincing the average Texan of the need for a tax bill and finding somebody who is willing to be taxed.

"This particular tax bill has not yet crystallized in the minds of the legislature or the people," Secrest said.

Secrest said that 87 cents of every Texas tax dollar is committed to welfare, education and highways which, he continued, voters have indicated they wished to maintain from the House and the House could not approve the bill until it came out of committee.

The legislature is working on an omnibus tax bill to raise about $150 million for the 1959-61 fiscal biennium. It is in a second special 30-day session, following a regular five-month spring session.

Out that legislators have had difficulty convincing the average Texan of the need for a tax bill and finding somebody who is willing to be taxed.

"This particular tax bill has not yet crystallized in the minds of the legislature or the people," Secrest said.

Two Main Classes Will Compete Here

A downtown parade will touch off the two-day Cameron Horse Show July 17-18.

Saddle Club President Charles McDermott said the show will begin with gaited competition 7:30 p.m. Friday July 17, and continue with the quarter horse competition 8 a.m. Saturday, July 18 with the final open cutting events that evening.

The fifth annual event will be boosted by a week of Western Week activities July 13-18 that include beard growing contests, "wooden nickles," special trade events and a special jail for "Western Week violations."

The Cameron Chamber is boosting the week-long promotion to widen the scope of the Saddle Club's attendance, McDermott said.

Showers Fall In City Area; Crops Need Rain

About 35 of an inch rain has fallen in the Cameron area during intermittent weather attempts to rain in Milam County.

Elsewhere in Central Texas rainfall ranged up to 5 inches in Hubbard.

Spotty showers fell in Cameron Monday and Tuesday, leaving parts of the city untouched.

Meanwhile, farmers were looking for a general 2-inch rain to boost corn and maize crops due for harvest through July.

Officials at Milam Grain Co. said they started their operation Tuesday to clear the way for new maize. Manager C. O. Angell said a good general rain would finish out an outstanding 1959 corn and maize crop.

Cotton growers also looked skyward for some more showers. But main interest was on the closing harvest season of small grains.

Showers Tuesday evening drenched parts of Central Cameron, but left sections east and north totally untouched.

The Cameron weatherman again predicted showers by the week end but did not say how much rain could fall. A two-day weather projection indicated continued low 90 temperature readings and high humidity.

In other Texas counties, rains flooded streams and sent them pouring over their banks. No major damage was expected by weather experts.

No overflows were reported in Milam County during the past few weeks.

The parade will include a number of saddle clubs from Central Texas, bands, floats from the Milam County area.

Both gaited and quarterhorse shows will be held at the Saddle Club Arena in Wilson-Ledbetter Park, club officials noted. The gaited show has been held at Yoe Field in prior years.

Mrs. Joe Hickman is chairman of the quarter horse show and Buddy Shipp is chairman of the gaited show.

McDermott expects entries from all over the Southwest in the quarter horse and gaited contests. Outstanding entries from leading stables and breeders in past shows have brought Cameron's show statewide interest, he added.

Awards will go to winners in 15 classes of gaited competition including shetland pony class, barrel races, reining and keyhole racing.

Scope of Events

Competition in the quarter horse show will match talents in roping, cutting, Western Pleasure classes, halter classes of stallions and fillies and open cutting.

A trophy and six ribbons will be given in the halter classes and a trophy and six ribbons will be given in the performance classes.

McDermott said that combined efforts of Saddle Club and Chamber membership would probably make the fifth Cameron Horse Show the best attended event in its history.

Chamber Announces Holiday Schedule

The Cameron Chamber of Commerce has announced that a large majority of Cameron storeowners has voted to close Saturday, July 4, and agreed on four other annual holidays.

Manager Richard Moseley said that a major portion of ballots showed a preference for closing July 4 as well as Labor Day, September 7, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day.

Banks, the Cameron Postoffice and government offices will also be closed.

Complete holiday schedule for 1959 as voted by the Chamber membership is:

Saturday, July 4 — Independence Day
Monday, September 7 — Labor Day
November 26 — Thanksgiving Day
December 25 — Christmas Day
Jan. 1, 1960 — New Year's Day
The Chamber board of directors approved the holiday schedule based upon results of the survey, Moseley said.

TECHNOLOGICAL ADVANCES HAVE KEPT
ELECTRIC RATES LOW

You don't have to be a real "old-timer" to recall the days when electric power was generated by a small steam engine. Every time the belt slipped the lights would dim all over town. Today's huge, steam-electric, central generating stations supply metropolitan-type service through networks of transmission lines.

The first transmission line in Texas... from Waco to Waxahachie and to Dallas and Fort Worth... was constructed by TP&L in 1915. That line provided many communities along the way their first electric service. Year by year the Company has grown and now serves 348,000 customers from some 20,000 miles of line. Through these years the Company has carried on a program of research and development relative to the various phases of its business.

As a result, TP&L's customers have always enjoyed dependable electric service at low cost. For example, since 1936, the cost of living has gone up 108% while the average unit cost of TP&L residential electricity has gone down 45%.

TP&L Company is a business-managed, investor-owned public utility company... a typical example of American free enterprise. Its expansion requires none of your tax dollars, as is the case of government sponsored power projects, which consume rather than pay taxes. Instead, TP&L — a good tax-paying citizen wherever it serves — pays taxes amounting to more than 25 cents of each dollar of revenue to help pay for our national defense, to help support schools, fire and police protection and to finance government services generally.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM William Harris Wharton Diplomat and Defender of Texas Independence

In just 14 years, young William H. Wharton made a giant's mark on the pages of Texas history — as lawyer, pioneer, planter, soldier, statesman and patriot. Born in Virginia, in 1802, Wharton came to Texas in 1827, married Sarah Ann Groce, daughter of another pioneer, and established the beautiful and historic plantation, Eagle Island. As one of the colonist party demanding of Mexico separate statehood for Texas, Wharton opposed the conservative policies of Stephen F. Austin. The petition of 1832, asking for statehood, was a document which has become a political classic. Wharton was its author.

But when the territory was faced with the actual fight for freedom, Wharton and Austin forgot their enmities of earlier years in devotion to the cause to which both were dedicated. Wharton supported Austin in his campaign for presidency of the Republic. Sam Houston, the victor, then appointed Austin Secretary of State and Wharton the first Minister to the United States. Through the young Minister's diplomatic skill, the Republic won U. S. recognition on March 3, 1837. But only two years later Texas lost the distinguished services of William H. Wharton. The accidental discharge of his own pistol ended a brief but brilliant career in the cause of freedom.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland, "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Ever Do Any 'Jug' Fishing?

By Vern Sanford
Ever do any "jug" fishing? Jugging for catfish is performed in two ways.

One way is to tie a jug or oil can, to a snag, or stake, near a known catfish hole. To the other end of this float attach a hook and line, adjusted to the proper depth, and baited with your favorite catfish bait.

When a fish bites, the can, or jug, goes under. But the float's buoyancy soon tires the fish and the float pops to the surface again and again.

The other method is to tie a hook and line to a free-floating jug or can. If set out in a running stream, the fisherman must follow his jug or can by boat, retrieving when it indicates a strike. Sometimes a number of floating jugs are set free at the same time.

In jugging, discretion must be used so that the floats do not hinder, or endanger motor boats or other craft. Also, it's well to remember that game wardens frown on "unattended" lines.

Looking For Ideas
Here's a random collection of ideas, gathered from hither and yon. Take a looksee. Perhaps you'll find something of interest.

FOR LESS NOISE—To deaden the racket your feet make in the bottom of a metal boat, have your garageman spray the floor with a coating of the rubber undercoat used to lessen automobile noises. It's non-skid, too.

TRICKING BASS—Though black bass usually ignore worms, you can make a mighty potent combo to entice them by hooking on a night crawler at the end of a spoon.

SNIPERS HANDY—When running a catfish line, or when rod and reel fishing for catfish, it's a good idea to slip a pair of small wire cutters in your pocket. Use them to snip off the sharp spines of the dorsal and pectoral fins of your catch before trying to handle the fish. This may help you avoid painful, even dangerous, stabs of these sometimes poisonous barbs.

AROMA LURES CATS—As catfish feed largely by scent, it stands to reason that the more a bait stinks, the better it will reach them. And this is so. Many big catfish are caught on small perch and other live bait, but stink bait of these aromas: rotted cheese or eggs; asafetida; skunk juice; oil of rhodium; rotted minnows, liver or chicken innards. Mix any of these odorous messes with cotton, feathers, or old rags; mold into proper sized balls and bait the hooks. You'll get results.

SAVE LURES—Many a lunger is lurking in that weed infested water that you hesitate to cast your dollar lure into. You can cut down the danger of losing your lure (and maybe catch a lunger) if you will use extra heavy line (18 pounds, or more) and a weedless hook, then quickly horse into the boat any strike you may get. Don't try for finesse—yank him in!

TROLL ACROSS CURRENT—A 30-lb. test monofilament line is just right for off-shore trolling. And here's a tip: migrating fish usually travel against prevailing currents, so you better troll crossways to their course until you spot a feeding school.

GULLS AS GUIDES—When

smart lake fishermen notice gulls sitting around the water and the beaches, they hunker down and wait. Often the birds are just resting and watching for feeding schools of white bass to resume their feeding. They will spot schools long before you do.

night, haven't you often scrambled around in the boat searching for the landing net? Next time, before going out, paint the handle with a broad band of luminous paint. This holds good for any tackle you have trouble locating on the darkened bottom of a boat—or on shore.

SIT TO CAST—Learn to cast while sitting down in a boat. Standing to cast can frighten fish for many yards around. Also it's dangerous. And don't wear white shirts or light clothing; they scare fish out of their wits.

ACCURATE CASTING—Whether you are a bait-caster, a spinning reel man, or a purist fly-rod fisherman, the importance of being accurate in your casts can't be over-emphasized. If you drop your lure exactly on the spot aimed for, your chances of getting a strike are far greater than are those of the wild-casting hombre who plops his lure all over the landscape.

Not only are many of his casts wasted, but they tend to frighten all bass from the vicinity.

WHOPPER POPPER—Here is how to make that sensational new bait everybody is talking about: Take a regular sized Heddon Chugger "Spook" (or a similar popping lure such as the Pico "Chugnik") and remove gang hooks, front and rear. To rear, where you have removed hooks, tie on a 3-foot gut or nylon leader. To the other end of leader, attach a buck-tail lure with a medium hook, or a tiny jig with bucktail. This makes a "killer" bait for sure. This type of lure now can be bought commercially, ready-made. Dave Hawk's is appropriately called "The Hitchhiker."

BASS BAIT—Hellgrammites (Dobson fly larvae) make excellent bass, perch, etc., bait. Dark colored, with six legs, and two sets of sharp nippers, front and rear, the hellgrammite is shaped something like a caterpillar with fringy sort of things on each side. They live under rocks and stones in the ripples of small streams and can be gathered by turning stones. Keep in cool, damp leaves or moss until ready to use. To bait (watch those nippers) run hook under collar, or through tail. Hellgrammites are tough and long-lived and bass think they are great.

SETTING THE DRAG—While some spinning reel anglers leave their drag brakes adjusted just below the line's breaking point, there are others who prefer to set the brake higher, then click it back lower once they get a strike. Each method has its good points. Try them both to find which suits you better.

KNIFE WARNING—For safety when surf fishing, carry your bait knife in a scabbard at the back of your belt. If knife is attached to belt at front or sides, a fall could cause dangerous thigh wounds.

FISHING LINGO—Bait Rig: All that is used at end of fishline, such as leader, sinker, swivel, hook, etc. (2) Hand Line Fishing: Using no rod, pole, or reel, but casting, holding, and pulling in line entirely by hand. (3) Dropping between the time a fish strikes and you set the hook. Mostly concerning saltwater trolling. (4) Bulge: The disturbed, roiled water fish make when feeding near the surface. (5) Fighting Time: The interval between the strike and the boating.

A Deficit Uncertainty...

A second special session is underway at Austin to determine how Texas will raise tax monies to meet the state's commitments.

Each day of this special session is costing Texas $200,000, the average daily cost of Texas government during legislative activity.

We can add this amount, multiplied by the number of legislative days of indecision, to the state's $65 million deficit.

The governor and legislative leaders have asked that legislators poll their constituents about preferred tax measures in meeting Texas' obligations.

It is anti-climatic to query: Couldn't individual legislators sample the feeling of their districts prior to legislating taxes?

One day's cost of government would pay for a comprehensive poll mailed to constituents. Even though the poll would not be answered by 40 percent of voters, a significant direction would be pointed by those who did reply. After all, only a minority of eligible voters elects legislators or any public official.

Texas' dilemma, peculiar to most states in the domestic forty-eight, cannot be thrown wholly on legislators. Ultimate responsibility must come down to John Q. Voter. By omission or commission, he has allowed indecision, waste and indeterminate policy to misbalance the good government services make possible.

Ours is not a need for anarchy or for privileged government or for mass socialism. Ours is the need for intelligent understanding between electorate and elected, based on reality and implemented by decisiveness.

The public servant does not curry the favor of constituents on the one hand by deferring responsibility. And he does not heighten his stature by indiscriminate tax obligation of voters money. Between the two negatives, he must find a positive with the conviction that he has tried to learn what constituents want.

Two special sessions after five months of regular session suggest a breakdown of rapport between representative and represented.

No one likes to talk about taxes. But deficit uncertainty is hardly our picture of good government.

The Khrushchev Position...

A favorite villain of the Western World, Nikita Khrushchev, has implied by action that the Berlin Crisis is not shaping to his predetermined mold.

His May 27 ultimatum for western nations to clear West Berlin has passed. His foreign ministers are not as arbitrary in talks with the West. And still West Berlin is free of "open city" status, a purposeful goal Khrushchev wished for "free" elections of Communist leadership.

On the contrary, firmness of Western policy, i. e., that the U. S. Britain and France would not vacate West Berlin, has clouded Soviet position in East Berlin. It has boiled Soviet propaganda alive throughout the Communist bloc of nations.

Khrushchev chose minute Albania to fire his latest broadsides of condemnation at the West. State department experts suggest that he fled the Kremlin at the "clear West Berlin deadline" to avoid embarrassing explanations to the Politburo.

Khrushchev well knows that co-leaders of the Communist sphere are not rubber stamp directors of world revolution. They have their own internal threats and ambitions to satisfy.

Khrushchev may compromise his Berlin problems for the present with promises to renew vigorous cold war aggression. But that is not enough to satisfy ambitious Communist China and restless Soviet satellites.

Firm, uncompromising arbitration with Russia would probably force the issue in the Kremlin before it would ignite war. The late John Foster Dulles' "brinkmanship" proved Russia seeks no major fire fights.

Let Khrushchev explain his position to the world. And let the West maintain its own.

Offers Advice To Washington Officials
Who Don't Have Time To Think

Dear editor: there, I'd get too busy to think too.
President Eisenhower was making a speech in Washington the other day and he said one of the troubles many of the men in government have encountered is the lack of time to do enough opportunity for contemplation," he said, and announced he was going to try to figure out some way to remedy this.

I am afraid though he is going to run into some snags. Take the high officials in the State Department, the ones concerned with foreign policy.

Now if I had the job of studying about the present state of the world and figuring out an answer, I believe I'd get too busy doing something else to think about it too. For six weeks now the foreign ministers of the leading nations of the world have been meeting in Geneva to try to figure out what the leaders of the world's governments could talk about at a summit meeting. So far they haven't gotten anywhere, every time they bring something up, Russia throws a monkey wrench in it, and it's at a time like that, if I was over

I have hit on a system out here on my Johnson grass farm however which might come in handy to high government officials. When I have a knotty problem facing me, like going up one row and down another on my tractor, I find I'd rather think about it than do it. A lot of people think I'm lazy because I let my farm run down, but me and President Eisenhower know if the world needs anything it needs more thinking.

I guess there are some people who haven't got time to think, but frequently when a man doesn't think, it's not for lack of time. Thinking is hard work and you're not going to catch me taking the easy way out riding a tractor under a hot sun.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Capitol Report

Legislators In 2nd Special Session

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—At it again, for the third time this year, Legislators go into the second special session wearier, but wiser.

Midnight wind-up of the second session brought show-down votes indicating what each house will and will not accept in the way of a tax program. Next conference committee on taxes will know that the line of compromise must be more finely drawn between Senate and House thinking.

In addressing the new session, Gov. Price Daniel reminded lawmakers of the "up against it" state of things. "Every function of state government depends on enactment of an appropriation bill before Sept. 1 with a tax bill to support it," said the governor.

State's fiscal year and present appropriations run out Aug. 31. Unless a new appropriation bill can go into effect the next day, the whole state operation—including hospitals, schools, employee salaries and pensions—will stop.

This is unthinkable, of course. No lawmaker could go home and face the voters with things in such a state.

But there's another pinching factor which the governor emphasized. Cost of deficit financing plus loss of potential tax income means that each day's delay costs the state an estimated $200,000. Despite this, the House took a four-day week end and the Senate, 3½ days.

But some lawmakers seemed to feel the delays, deadlocks and head-knocking were not necessarily expensive wasted motion, but milestones along the long, hard road to democratic compromise.

"We've crossed a lot of bridges we won't have to cross again," said Rep. Don Kennard of Fort Worth.

NO SURRENDER

Legislature was thrown into another session when the House rejected, 117-to-23, a conference committee tax bill that was largely based on Senate thinking.

Senate approved, 19-12. Some House members were indignant that three of the five House appointees signed the conference committee report which House opponents called a "complete surrender" to Senate wishes.

House passed a tax bill that was divided about 50-50 between taxes on business and selective sales taxes. Senate pared back the business taxes to about 18 per cent, added new or heavier sales taxes to make up the difference.

Conference committee proposed a bill that would have raised $177,066,900 with essentially the same levies approved by the Senate plus a temporary hike from $1 to $2 in drivers licenses.

Appropriations conference committee was reportedly deadlocked and never made a report.

After the new session opened, most of the same taxing and spending bills were introduced again, including the twice-killed abandoned property bill.

House quickly re-passed the same appropriation bill it had passed before. Most bills are expected to follow the same pattern they did in the last special session—up to the point where the conference committees start working

ONE MADE IT

Only major money bill to make the grade is the bookkeeping bill, passed by both Houses and signed into law by the governor.

Effect of the law is to change accounting procedures so that an estimated $28,000,000 more will be credited to the state's general fund when the fiscal year runs out Aug. 31.

It means that much less that has to be raised to balance the books.

Student Fee Bill Back
Rep. W. S. Heatley Jr. of Paducah re-introduced a bill to let colleges require students to pay up to $30 a semester for various campus services.

Bill passed the House last session, but died in the Senate on the last day. Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria was Senate sponsor.

Heatley, Fly and other supporters pointed to the crying need for new money and said college presidents were urging the bill. Opponents said there were better places to get money than from working-their-way college students who would rather do without the football tickets, parking spaces, etc., covered by the fee.

Trinity Lutheran Changes Hours

Divine Services at Trinity Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) will be held at a new time which began June 14.

The following time schedule will be observed by the congregation according to the Rev. L. R. Krout, pastor: Sundayschool and Adult Bible Class at 10:00 a.m. and Divine Services at 11:00 a.m. This time change, which became effective June 14, has been made to better serve the people of Cameron. An invitation has been extended by the congregation for the people of the community to attend all of its services.

Red Cross Chapter

To Meet In Rockdale

The Board of Directors of the American Red Cross Milam County Chapter will meet in the Directors Room of the Rockdale State Bank on Thursday, June 25th, at 7:45 p.m.

The general public is also invited to be present and get a first hand report of the work being done in the County by the Chapter. Officials said this is an important meeting, since the budget must be set in order to determine the amount to be collected in the United Fund drives for the north and south ends of the County.

Officers will be elected to serve beginning July 1, 1959 to July 1, 1960. Work that has been done during the past year and how funds were spent will be presented by the treasurer, J. D. Peeples, of Milano.

Control Of Animal Health Resumed

Part of the recent legislation concerning animal health was the section enacted to bring about the effective control and eventual eradication of bovine brucellosis in the State of Texas and to accomplish that purpose in the most effective, practical, and expeditious manner.

The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas may enter into cooperative agreements with the United States Department of Agriculture for the control and eradication of bovine brucellosis in Texas in an area or counties designated as a modified certified brucellosis free area. If such area follows county lines it shall be designated as "special" brucellosis control area.

modified certified brucellosis free area.

How To Set Up

When seventy-five per cent of the cattle owners in any area of county in this state, as reflected on current tax rolls, owning at least fifty-one per cent of the cattle within that affected area of county, as reflected by said tax rolls, shall petition the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas to have such area or county designated as a modified certified brucellosis free area, the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas may declare that county or area to be a brucellosis control area. If such area follows county lines it shall be designated as "special" brucellosis control area.

The Livestock Sanitary Commission would in turn issue a proclamation describing the area boundaries and date upon which brucellosis control work shall start within the area, which date shall be not less than ninety days after the date of such proclamation.

Such proclamation shall be published by posting copies thereof in at least three public places within the affected area and at the door of the courthouse of the county or counties affected, which posting shall be made at last ninety days before the effective date of the proclamation.

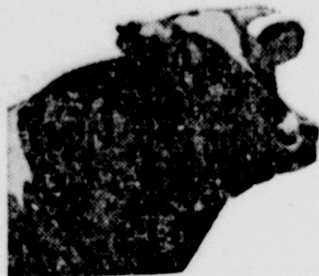

Said proclamation shall also fix the date, at which time a hearing will be had in the office of the date, which shall be not less than thirty days after the date of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, at which hearing any person owning cattle within the affected area who desires to protest the designation and establishment of the control area shall have the right to appear, either in person or by representatives, or both, and there express his views and opinion as to why such area should not be established.

Within 10 days after such hearing the commission shall issue a statement and decision regarding the hearing.

Two types of Control Programs:
I. Vaccination of young females with no testing program.
II. Testing and branding program.

The local county agent was asked to submit a local livestock owners name to receive and post such proclamation should a local area petition the commission for such a program. Mr. Hubert McClaren of Rt. 3, Cameron, agreed to assist with such posting if the need arises.

County Agent Reports:

Crops In Good Condition Compared With Year Ago

By J. D. Moore

Comparing crops with a year ago this week we find these conditions. Moisture conditions are not as good but insect and fruiting conditions are better. On June 16, 1958, we got a three inch rain and another 1 inch rain on June 20. Following these favorable moisture conditions, boll weevil infestation built up to counts ranging from 16 to 55 per cent. We completely lost control of the insect situation for the remainder of the summer even though poison was used in excess. This week boll weevil counts range from three to twelve percent where cotton has been poisoned and up to 24 per cent in fields where no poison has been used. Most farmers have poisoned two to four times. Cotton is about as good where only two applications of poison has been used. Generally, when the boll weevil count is 15 to 20 per cent, poison applications are recommended at 5 day intervals until the count is lowered.

Hot, dry weather is not favorable to insect life cycles. Six dry punctured squares were opened this week with only three live grubs surviving the weather conditions.

Cotton Is In Bloom

At present cotton is fruiting very well with blooms showing up in all sections of the county. Authorities claim it takes from 50 to 65 days for a bloom to make an open boll. Mila county cotton land has its limitations as far as production goes. Most of our land will produce a bale on three to four acres for the upland and one half to one bale per acre on the bottom land. If possible, it is most profitable to poison cotton early two to three times in order to get an early set of fruit on the stalks and stop poisoning. This not only makes an early crop that usually brings 20 to 25 dollars per bale more because of a better grade but early fruiting keeps down excessive growth and foliage. Cotton fruiting conditions are better than a year ago.

Last year following what farmers thought were good rains, cotton plants started excessive growth due to favorable growing conditions and failed to fruit in June as it should. This made the crop late. The excess foliage made insect control even more difficult with some farmers poisoning 12 to 14 times. These two conditions caused a late expensive crop last year and rains in October lowered the grade of cotton costing the farmer too much money on grade alone.

A few tiny boll worms were found this week. We hope farmers can stop poisoning now if possible. If flea infestation builds up to 15 per 100 terminals, it might be advisable to use a sulphur dust with a low toxaphene dosage. The purpose of this suggestion is to lessen flea damage without killing all the beneficial insects. I realize this suggestion is contrary to the cotton insect guide for 1959.

Feed crops and livestock would benefit from a good rain, particularly late feed. We were pleased to see some excellent maize crops this week.

Cantaloupes and watermelons are late and are almost sure to need rain for anything like a normal crop.

Caring insect damage, the present crop looks more profitable than the 1958 nightmare.

You get the BIG comfort dividends in your 59 FORD...

Some cars' door openings aren't shaped to fit people! So you have to squirm and wiggle... make your body conform to the car when getting in and out.

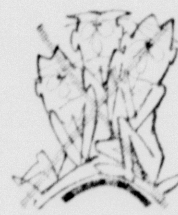

NO SQUIRM

Doors in 59 Fords are wider — up to six inches wider — and door openings are contoured to fit you! You get in and out of a Ford with greater ease and comfort. The girls really like Ford's doors... for more graceful entries and exits.

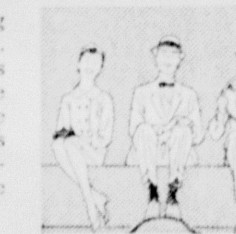

To gain a low roof line, some cars end up with higher floor "humps" and tufted rear seats — a combination that's mighty rough on the middleman.

NO SQUEEZE

Fords have usable seating space for six big people. The driveshaft tunnel is lower and rear seats are deeply cushioned all the way across. This means more comfort for all passengers... especially for the man in the middle.

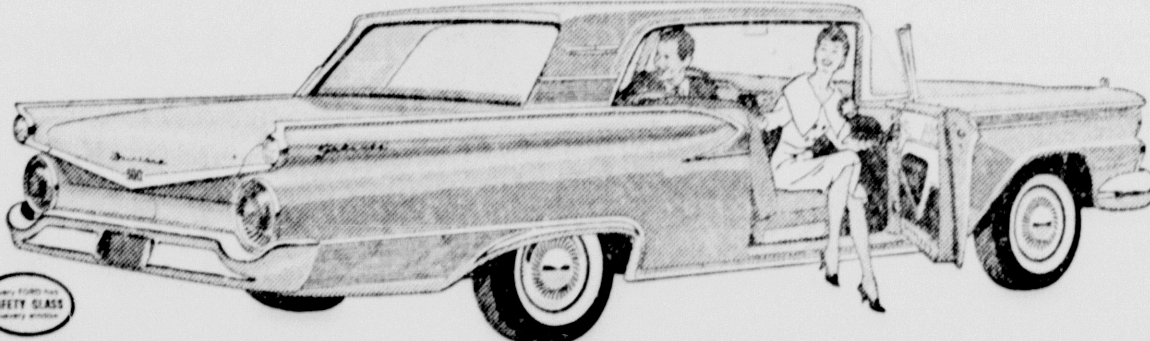

The squeezed down, skinny roofs of some cars aren't comfortable even for hard-headed riders. And they don't keep out excessive sunlight and glare.

NO SQUASH

See how much more head room Ford has. Even big six footers sit up straight without touching the roof. And Ford's big roof protects all passengers, in both front and rear seats, against the discomforts of excessive glare and heat from the sun.
